

Quality Policy

Darton is a company certified by IMQ, IQNET and ECOVADIS, guaranteeing the quality, safety and sustainability of its products and processes. Darton is proudly a member of the ANIE association for electronic components, further strengthening its commitment to innovation and compliance with the highest industry standards.

Passion for quality has always been for Darton Srl a founding and fundamental value and on this principle the company strategies and processes are also set.

We are constantly in motion, evolving, to always offer you the best and up-to-date solutions.

The main goal is full customer satisfaction, which we pursue through:

- maintaining a lean and dynamic organizational structure that makes all personnel responsible, involved and motivated
- continuous professional updating
- the computerization of operational and management processes
- the identification and investment of adequate economic resources defined during the budgeting phase
- the periodic review of processes, achieved results and executed procedures
- the adoption of corrective actions based on the analysis of complaints and objectives aimed at exceeding customer expectations on the basis of indications obtained from periodic customer satisfaction surveys
- the systematic and rigorous control of suppliers and collaborators operating on behalf of the company; the objective is to maintain a long-term collaborative relationship, in the belief that only a relationship of mutual exchange and growth guarantees the quality of the product and service provided to the customer
- the continuous monitoring of the progress status of company objectives in order to implement in time any changes that may be necessary.
- adoption of a risk-based approach applied to medium and short-term strategies and to daily operations.

Our Values

Transparency

the secret to creating real and lasting relationships over time.

Competence

supporting everything we think, say and do.

Attention

how we act and in the care towards our people, partners and customers.

Sensitivity

that “quid” more that allows us to always find the most suitable solution.

Dynamism

always in motion and part of change to respond to new needs.

The implementation of this Quality Policy is a daily commitment of all personnel, economically supported by the company, periodically reviewed by Management and transparently submitted to customer verification, because:

“The challenge is therefore to compete continuously with oneself to improve, always”
